1. CLA Network Update

We're pleased to announce that the Technical Services Network has been approved by Executive Council. The terms of reference have been posted on the Networks page on the CLA website.

Three new proposals for Networks have been submitted: the Evidence-based Library and Information Practices Network, the Human Resources Network, and the Library History Network. The proposals have also been added to the Networks page; you can indicate your support for the proposal by contacting the Moderator.

If you wish to join one of the approved Networks, send an email to membership@cla.ca.

2. IFLA World Library and Information Congress 2011 Highlights

Congress theme: "Libraries beyond libraries: Integration, Innovation and Information for all"

The IFLA World Library and Information Congress 2011 was held in San Juan, Puerto Rico, from 13-18 August 2011 with the closing session address by incoming President Ingrid Parent. Ingrid, UBC's University Librarian is the first Canadian IFLA President and began her two-year term on 18 Aug. A UBC graduate, Parent first became involved with IFLA in 1993 while working at the National Library of Canada. She has held many roles at IFLA since then, and has served as the President-elect for the past two years.

the CBC Literary Prizes are the flagship competitions of Canada Writes? Formerly the CBC Literary Awards, the CBC Literary Prizes, in partnership with Canada Council for the Arts and enRoute magazine, are now made up of three separate competitions that take place throughout the year. The CBC short story competition opens September 1.

The CBC Literary Prizes recognize the best in original, unpublished writing by Canadians. Canada Council for the Arts awards the first-place winner of each Prize $ 6,000 and each of the four finalists $1,000. First place winners will be published in enRoute magazine and online on Canada Writes as well as broadcast on CBC Radio.
