News from CLA

Canadian Libraries' Response to Chapter 18 of the Trans-Pacific Partnership Agreement

The Canadian Library Association, the Canadian Association of Research Libraries, and the Canadian Urban Libraries Council have jointly prepared a statement in response to the text of the Trans-Pacific Partnership. Our associations speak on behalf of Canadian researchers, students, educators and millions of others who rely on libraries for the development, preservation, and dissemination of Canadian content.

We believe that Chapter 18 of the Trans-Pacific Partnership in its current form will have significant negative impacts on the way that knowledge is shared and culture is preserved in this country. By accepting the provisions in Chapter 18 Canada has agreed to changes in copyright that favour powerful foreign interests and ultimately constrain the preservation, access and use of Canada's historical knowledge and culture. The most troubling points are the mandatory extension of the term of copyright protection (Article 18.63), and the requirement for a fixed interpretation of digital locks (Article 18.68).

To read the full response please click here

Shipping Tool Update

As previously communicated, Canada Post has introduced a new method of payment for meter customers' to pay for parcel shipments. For libraries using the Library Materials Shipping Tool (EOE Secure), the Supplier Account is not available at this time. Please continue to use meter as a method of payment and process your item as per the current process. Further communication will be sent out once Supplier Account is active and visible in the shipping tool.

2016 CLA Forum News

Libraries Matter. Your Voice Matters.

Prepare For A Canadian Library Association Event Like No Other!

As CLA winds down and the new Canadian Federation of Library Associations starts up, the June 1-3, 2016 meeting in Ottawa will be a watershed gathering.

This will not be another conference of talking heads and uncertain outcomes. Instead, we are hosting a forum centered on a key set of library issues of national importance.

Participate with colleagues from across Canada and around the world in focused dialogues and help craft outcomes that will advance the state of libraries and the emerging Federation. In sessions designed to inform and engage, those attending will consider some of the most critical challenges facing libraries in Canada.

This is an action oriented policy and advocacy forum. You will be challenged through discussion and debate, and your contributions will advance libraries in Canada.

We will celebrate the legacy of CLA and we will stimulate a new era of engagement, focus, vitality, and impact. As a community we are embarking on a new path. Help chart the way.

Workshops / Webinars / Events

Copyright Challenges for the 21st Century

Twenty-first century technology has presented many challenges to traditional conceptions of copyright, and to copyright regulation itself. Part of our responsibility as information professionals is to encourage and provide the tools for digital literacy, which includes the issue of information ownership. This session will address the need for, and lack of, copyright training in primary, secondary, and post-secondary education. It will also cover some of the particular issues in libraries (public, academic, and special) that might arise due to knowledge gaps on the part of patrons and users, and how some institutions are addressing them. Recommendations will be made on how to approach copyright awareness and literacy among patrons and how libraries can ensure they are not enabling copyright infringement.

Presenter: Lisa Di Valentino

Date: Tuesday, March 29, 2016

Time: 1 PM EST

Duration: One-hour webinar

Price: $45 for OLA members / $55 for non-members

Continuing Education Certificate credits: 1

Library Live & On Tour: Connecting in Surprising Places

Library Live and On Tour? is an innovative, stereotype-shattering literacy initiative developed by Fraser Valley Regional Library (British Columbia, Canada) that 'delivers the library' to people who do not know about libraries or have some obstacle to visiting them. The centrepiece is 'LiLi', a highly noticeable and surprising little vehicle with very 'un-library'-like enhancements. LiLi takes to the street to promote the library and literacy and to connect with marginalized and socially excluded people.

How heading into it's fourth year of operation, we will discuss the highs and lows of running such an intense outreach service and where we see the service heading in the future.

Presenters: Courtney Novotny, David Denault

Date: Thursday, March 31, 2016

Time: 2 PM EST

Demystifying Copyright 2nd Edition Author: Jean

Dryden Softcover

ISBN: 978-0-88802-2340-7

Sale Price: $ 19.95 (original list price $ 30.99)

The guide is intended to provide concise accessible information about Canadian copyright law for those who conduct research in Canadian libraries and archives in order to understand how copyright works and how to apply the rules to particular situations. The term 'researcher' includes all those who consult the resources of libraries and archives for any purpose, whether the outcome is a dissertation, a family tree, a school project, or the answer to a question of personal interest. The librarians and archivists who serve researchers will also find it useful when responding to questions about copyright; however, the guide does not cover the administration of copyright matters in a library or archives.

Canadian Copyright in Schools and Libraries

Author: John Tooth

Softcover

ISBN:978-0-88802-345-2

Price: $39.95

Canadian Copyright in Schools and School Libraries addresses copyright issues that typically arise in those educational settings. The author's goal is to provide some direction to help school staff across Canada answer copyright questions in their daily work. This publication offers some focus for the reasonable handling of copyright issues based on legal interpretation and case law.

John Tooth is a professional librarian and educator with an MLIS from the University of Western Ontario, an MEd and PhD from the University of Winnipeg.

After a brief retirement, John accepted a position as Copyright Officer and Head of the Copyright Office for the University of Winnipeg Library beginning in October 2012. Prior to this, he was coordinator of the Instructional Resources Unit of Manitoba Education, and served as the copyright consultant for the Department and for schools for some 35 years. He now undertakes education and copyright consulting work.

The ALA Guide to Information Sources in Insurance, Risk Management

Author: Lucy Heckman

Softcover

ISBN-13: 978-0-8389-1275-1

Price: $ 95.00

The insurance industry is among the most highly regulated industries today, and literature on the field is a complex thicket of sources. This valuable, one-of-a-kind resource is a comprehensive guide to locating and using information resources about the insurance industry. Pointing researchers, practitioners, faculty and students of business administration, law firms, and anybody interested in researching the insurance industry to the most relevant information, each chapter contains an annotated list of specific print and digital sources, plus explanations on how to make best use of sometimes-forbidding technical materials. Included are company directories, almanacs, databases, websites, legal resources, and industry-specific guides that cover

- All major lines of insurance, including property/casualty, life, health, and reinsurance
- Social Insurance, including Social Security, unemployment insurance, and pensions

- The insurance policy from the standpoint of practitioners, regulators, and consumers
- Insurance law and regulations
- All areas of risk management including financial, technical and intellectual property
- Actuarial science and its current applications to financial engineering
- Archival and historical material

Including an introduction defining risk management and describing its use in the insurance industry and the field of actuarial science, this resource is a must for every reference collection.

2016 Award for the Advancement of Intellectual Freedom in Canada

The Canadian Library Association is pleased to announce that Richard Beaudry and Gail Chaddock-Costello have been chosen as winners of the 2016 Award for the Advancement of Intellectual Freedom in Canada for their demonstrated leadership and exceptional courage in resisting censorship and opposing violations of intellectual freedom in school libraries and schools.

Mr. Beaudry, long-time teacher librarian in British Columbia and 1st Vice-President of the Langley Teachers' Association, and Ms. Chaddock-Costello, the Association's President, were involved in a series of formal grievances in different schools over an extended period of time against arbitrary policies, and decisions that would have severely restricted access to reading materials for students and in some cases for teachers too.

Although the results of their principled determination to support intellectual freedom principles in a school environment are felt most directly by local students and teaching staff, the courage of Ms. Chaddock-Costello and Mr. Beaudry in opposing school library censorship will serve as a model for all Canadians faced with the evolving crisis in school library services. Mr. Beaudry has said, "If you attack one library in Canada, you attack them all," and it is his and Ms. Chaddock-Costello's commitment to the broader, national perspective that is also recognized in this Award.

Launch of the PERSIST digital heritage selection Guidelines

We are very pleased to announce the launch of The UNESCO/PERSIST Guidelines for the selection of digital heritage for long-term preservation!

The UNESCO PERSIST Project, an initiative of UNESCO, ICA, IFLA and other partners, for enhancing the sustainability of digital heritage, has now launched The UNESCO/PERSIST Guidelines for the selection of digital heritage for long-term preservation.

The aim of the Guidelines is to provide an overarching starting point for libraries, archives, museums and other heritage institutions when drafting their own policies on the selection of digital heritage for long-term sustainable digital preservation.

The Guidelines target institutions, professionals and administrators on every level and in every region of the world in order to review existing material for selection, highlight important issues, and offer guidance when drafting institutional policies, they were written by a team of seven authors from the libraries, archives, and museums community.

We encourage everyone to use the Guidelines as a starting point for the institutional policies. If you do use the Guidelines, we would very much appreciate any feedback you have in order to improve them and make the truly usable for all communities.

Please send your feedback to: cultural.heritage@ifla.org

"The Library Juice Press Handbook of Intellectual Freedom" named 2016 Eli M. Oboler Award winner

The Intellectual Freedom Round Table has announced the winner of the 2016 Eli M.

Oboler Memorial Award, which recognizes the best published work in the area of intellectual freedom. The 2016 award goes to The Library Juice Press Handbook of Intellectual Freedom, edited by Mark Alfino and Laura Koltutsky. The publisher is the Library Juice Press.

In recognizing The Library Juice Press Handbook of Intellectual Freedom, the Oboler Award selection committee said it believed that the book was an enormous contribution to the existing literature and indispensable to a thorough discussion of the subject of intellectual freedom. The book looks at intellectual freedom from a wider range of theoretical perspectives and in connection with a wider range of cultural topics, under the premise that "thought and action about intellectual freedom needs to be informed by a broader and more complex range of topics and theoretical reflection than it typically has been."

Libraries and Science Odyssey - How can libraries help?

Science Odyssey week held from May 6 to 15, 2016 is an excellent opportunity for libraries to capitalize on the momentum and attention of this national event, contribute to the celebration of science, and help create public awareness of Canadian achievements in science, technology, engineering and mathematics.

We would like to encourage libraries to promote Science Odyssey through various channels, such as setting up displays related to science, technology, engineering or mathematics during the event or even organizing activities at their various locations.

Also, we encourage libraries to bring forward activities that they may already have planned during this time period or, if possible, to align the dates of their upcoming activities with the dates of Science Odyssey, in order to create greater and stronger impact in fostering a strong science culture in Canada. Libraries can easily submit activities with the online submission form so they can be added to the list of activities on the Science Odyssey website.

Managing Human Resources in the library and information context: How do we want to work tomorrow?

The Marketing & Management Section and the Law Libraries Section of IFLA, in collaboration with ASTED, invite you to a two-day satellite meeting on August 10-11, 2016, taking place at the University of Toronto, for conversations relating to library human resource management in the 21st century.

The library environment is currently undergoing profound changes driven by a variety of factors, including, technological, economic, socio-political, and educational developments. At the heart of these changes we find our most valuable resource, the personnel working in libraries. Human resource management is therefore at the forefront of many complex issues and opportunities, which need to be understood, debated, and deliberated upon, in order to strengthen our organizations and to find new and dynamic solutions to problems currently facing libraries. We invite you to engage in a rich exchange of ideas on innovative and forward looking approaches to library human resource management initiatives, programs, issues, and policies.

2016 Library of Congress Literacy Awards

The Library of Congress Center for the Book is pleased to announce that applications are now being accepted for the 2016 Library of Congress Literacy Awards. These awards are given to outstanding organizations working to promote literacy, both in the United States and worldwide. The awards seek to recognize organizations doing exemplary, innovative and replicable work over a sustained period of time and to encourage new groups, organizations and individuals to become involved. All groups that work to promote literacy are encouraged to apply. Applications from groups that have applied before are welcome. Applications must be received no later than midnight on March 31, 2016. The application rules and a downloadable application form may be accessed here

MLA Field Bibliography Fellowships

The MLA International Bibliography invites applications for field bibliography fellowships. Field bibliographers examine scholarly materials and send citations and indexing information to the MLA office for inclusion in the bibliography. Fellowships are for a three-year period, beginning 1 July 2016, and ending 30 June 2019; five to ten fellowships will be awarded annually. The MLA seeks scholars of any level of seniority interested in training as field bibliography fellows and able to deliver 100 citations each year. This opportunity is open to potential as well as existing field bibliographers. The MLA will provide materials and training meetings at the annual convention. Fellows attending training sessions will have their conference registration fees waived. On completion of the fellowship, they will receive a stipend of $500 and a certificate at the MLA Convention awards ceremony. It is hoped that recipients of these fellowships will continue submitting citations throughout their careers.

The deadline for application is April 1, 2016.

The basic criteria for application are:

1. MLA membership
2. MA or Ph.D. in a relevant field
3. Access to scholarly material for indexing

To apply, please send a letter of request including qualifications and reasons for application to the fellowship, and a current resume or c.v. Materials or questions may be addressed to: Helen Slavin, MLA International Bibliography, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789

IFLA Green Library Award 2016

According to the Online Dictionary for Library and Information Science (ODLIS), Green Libraries are "designed to minimize negative impact on the natural environment and maximize indoor environmental quality by means of careful site selection, use of natural construction materials and biodegradable products, conservation of resources (water, energy, paper), and responsible waste disposal (recycling, etc.)"

They also focus on related services, activities, events, literature and projects, demonstrating the social role and responsibility of libraries as leaders in environmental sustainability.

Any outstanding Green Library project, initiative or idea may apply for the IFLA Green Library Award.

Applications due April 1, 2016

Call for submissions: IFLA LIS Student Paper Award 2016

The IFLA Education & Training Section (SET) has the pleasure to announce the 8th IFLA LIS Student Paper Award for 2016.

The IFLA LIS Student Paper Award honours students of Library and Information Science whose abstract submissions have been accepted by any IFLA Section or Unit to be presented at the upcoming IFLA World Library and Information Congress 82nd IFLA General Conference and Assembly, 13-19 August, 2016 in Columbus, Ohio, USA.

Each year, three finalists are recognized for their outstanding achievements. One winner is selected from the three finalists.

Students must first follow one of the deadlines of any IFLA Section Call for Papers. Once the paper is accepted for presentation by any IFLA Section at the World Congress (not a satellite conference), you may then send your full paper to SET to apply for the award not later than 15 April 2016. ### FRBR-Library Reference Model Comments Wanted

You are invited to comment on FRBR-LRM as part of a world-wide review.

The FRBR-Library Reference Model was developed in response to the need to unify the three separately developed conceptual models (FRBR, FRAD, FRSAD) and consolidate them into a single, consistent model covering all aspects of bibliographic data. FRBR-LRM aims to be a high-level conceptual reference model developed within an entity-relationship modelling framework. The FRBR Review Group worked actively towards a consolidated model starting in 2010. In 2013, the FRBR Review Group constituted a Consolidation Editorial Group (CEG) which is responsible for the drafting of this model document. Comments are due by May 1, 2016. Read More

BookNet Canada Promoting the State of Digital Publishing 2015

BookNet Canada is pleased to announce the third year of its research to determine the size and scope of the digital publishing market in Canada.

This survey is being circulated to Canadian publishers, asking about details such as:

- Number of ebook titles in circulation
- Percentage of ebook titles by genre
- Percentage of publisher revenue derived from ebook sales
- Digital production processes
- ...and more!

By surveying publishers directly, we will be able to collate data from various sectors of the publishing industry. We are interested in hearing from publishers across all sectors, regardless of the size of your digital publishing program. All responses will remain entirely anonymous.

To thank you for your participation, anyone who completes the survey will receive an advance copy of the final report, The State of Digital Publishing in Canada 2015.

You can take a look at the 2013 and 2014 reports here.
