

Author Agreement – Feliciter

The Canadian Library Association is pleased to accept your manuscript for publication in Feliciter, our online magazine/journal, subject to the following:

Acceptance: If the submission is not in electronic format, an electronic copy in an editable file format is hereby requested. Please confirm with CLA the acceptable file formats.

Rights: Submissions to Feliciter must be original and not previously published. Requests to make copies or otherwise use material must be made in writing to CLA. Permission is usually granted for authors to reproduce their contributions as published in the magazine. CLA clears any reprint or other requests to use material with the author. Authors are required to keep current contact information on file with CLA to facilitate these requests.

Photographs/Illustrations: We welcome colour or black-and-white photographs, illustrations, charts and table that support the text. Authors are responsible for providing sufficient documentation to assure CLA that CLA has the right to publish the photograph or illustration.

Editing: CLA reserves the right to make revisions, deletions or additions that enhance the text or are required to meet length restrictions. All materials are copy-edited for consistency. Substantial revisions are discussed with the author. Every effort is made to provide the author with an opportunity to review the edited text prior to publication.

Open Access: CLA encourages its authors to self-archive in institutional and/or disciplinary repositories. CLA will generally provide for the author's retention of copyright by employing Creative Commons licensing or publisher-author agreements that promote open access. Authors are welcome to make their intellectual content Open Access under the provision of a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs2.5 Canada License".
